President’s Message
Greetings:

We all know and appreciate that Fairfax County is a diverse place. We have neighbors who were born all over the United States and the rest of the world. Some have families that have lived in Northern Virginia for generations, while others moved here in the last few years. We are regularly exposed to different customs, languages, cultures and food. Fairfax County is an exciting place in which to live and work. It’s a place to learn and grow.

There is another changing demographic that should cause us and our government to pause and think. Fairfax County has been a great place to find high-paying jobs. However, while presenting the FY2015 county budget, County Executive Ed Long informed the Federation that this phenomenon is changing. Job growth at the high end of the compensation scale has slowed to a trickle, while low-wage jobs are growing more rapidly. And many think this is a long-term trend.

Demographic changes are not good or bad; right or wrong. But they do need to be understood. A county with job growth at the low end of the compensation spectrum will be harder pressed to generate historical increases in tax revenue that have been necessary to support a strong school system and robust county services. Yet, most residents are not likely willing to accept downgraded schools or county services. A less affluent county cannot afford to send the same level of income and sales tax dollars to Richmond that support schools and low real estate taxes in much of the rest of the Commonwealth. Yet legislators from “receiving” jurisdictions have no motivation to reduce their share of state revenues or our tax burdens.

Raising local taxes higher provides incentives for the more mobile (and often, more affluent) residents to leave Fairfax County. (Of the 20 professionals in the small Fairfax County-based law firm where I am affiliated, nine rarely come to the office and several live in other states. Many people can “work here virtually” and not “live here physically.”) Raising taxes also hurts lower-income individuals, leaving them with less disposable income. There is no easy answer.

What is certain is: Business as usual will not likely work for Fairfax County. Our county is changing in ways that will affect government revenues and services. We need to start a broad dialog now to guide Fairfax County as it changes economically. The Federation and its members need to be active participants in the discussion.

Best regards,

Rob

Janyce Hedetniemi Selected as Fairfax County Citizen of the Year

At-Large Planning Commissioner Janyce Hedetniemi will be honored as the 2013 Fairfax County Citizen of the Year at the annual awards banquet sponsored by the Fairfax County Federation of Citizens Associations on Sunday, April 27 at the Tysons Corner Crowne Plaza Hotel in McLean. Commissioner Hedetniemi is known for her dedication to the county as evidenced by her work as an at-large member of the Fairfax County Park Authority Board and Chair of the Fairfax County Transportation Advisory Commission. She was a member of the Tysons Land Use Task Force and Vice-Chair of the Task Force Steering Committee which helped formulate comprehensive plan language for Tysons. In 2012, she helped form and served as the first chair of the Braddock District Land Use and Environmental Management Committee. Commissioner Hedetniemi is an at-large member of the Fairfax County Planning Commission and serves on the Commissions’ special committees: Transportation, Tysons and Residential Studios. The No-Increase Real-Estate Tax Rate

The tax (including the storm water charge) on a $500,000 home in 2014 is:

\text{Tax2014} = \frac{1.105}{100} \times 500,000 = $5525

Real-estate assessments rose 6.54%. If the tax in 2015 is to be the same as the tax in 2014, the tax rate in FY2015 would be:

\text{Tax2015} = \frac{\text{rate}}{100} \times 500,000 \times 1.0654 = \text{Tax2014}

Solving: \[\text{rate} = \frac{1.105}{1.0654} = 1.0372\] (includes stormwater)

The tax rate would be 1.0147 plus the stormwater charge of 0.0225.

PROGRAM: FY2015 BUDGET PRESENTATION

Ms. Boone introduced County Executive Ed Long and Deputy Director Department of Management and Budget Joe Mondoro who presented an overview and highlights of the FY2015 advertised budget. Sequestration has ended for now but continues to impact the economy in the county. The General Assembly bill concerning transportation passed last year which provides $125M to the county for transportation projects. Multi-year budget approach is working. New CIP review process has been undertaken by the schools and county to look at infrastructure needs. The utility rate for Stormwater Division will increase to $.0375 over the next 5 years. An IT Plan will be coming next year for technology needs as well as Public Safety needs.

Items of concern about the budget include that real estate values are not back to 2008 levels. Mr. Long does not want to approve anything in upcoming budgets that cannot be sustained. There will be continuing challenges to fully fund FCPS and county employee compensation.

The county has cut so much in past years, but we have now identified a core level of services. The extra $20M in cuts that the Board of Supervisors asked for are significant – libraries, school readiness, etc.—areas where the advertised budget had put extra funding for FY2015.

Jobs are slowly starting to increase, however, the unemployment rate inch ed up to 4% last month. New jobs in the county have changed from high paying ones to construction or other lower paying ones.

AAA bond rating saves the county money. The last bond sale garnered a 2.84% rate. There was a watch issued by one of the rating agencies because of three reasons: the county used onetime money for recurring expenses; the level of reserves should be increased from 7-8% currently to 15-20%; and there was concern about the liability gap of the retirement system – Mr. Long commented that the county would grow those funds from 72% to be 80%. Revenues are not growing as they have in the past; the new normal is smaller increases in revenue.

The Business and Professional Occupational License (BPOL) revenues are lower than expected, no other extra revenue sources except to ask for a referendum to allow a meals tax. The meals tax failed two times with voters already. Reduced revenue growth is the new normal. Further, 63% of revenue comes from real estate taxes. We don’t have magic ways to increase revenue.

Increased home values have resulted in an average 6.54% increase in real estate assessments; with no commercial real estate increased values and high vacancy rates. Need to increase commercial real estate values and reduce vacancy rates.

The Board of Supervisors approved an advertised real estate rate that is 2 cents more than the current rate, or $1.105. They did that to allow room for discussion of possible increases in the adopted budget.

School budget comprises 52.1% of county expenditures. Support for schools has not wavered. Since 2009 over 650 county cuts were made—police fire, DFS, etc. The Schools have traditionally gotten a fair share of any revenue increases.

The Schools budget request was for a 5.7% increase while the Advertised budget allows for a 2% increase in funding. There is a gap in funding the schools, which did not include an estimated $30M from the state budget.

A market pay study for county employees revealed that the fire department was out of market, so a 3% pay increase is in the budget. The Board wants to consider a 2% increase for county employees. The Board has to consider what is sustainable for FY2016 and beyond. Pay is important to recruit and retain quality employees and teachers.

The 911 call center equipment must be replaced at a cost of $5M. Computer aided dispatch terminals will cost $11M. Increased public assistance caseloads transferred from state must be funded. The Community Funding Pool resources help community organizations serve residents.

Mr. Long stated in the future that if we build a facility, we must be able to staff it. Buildings under construction now will be staffed.

World Police and Fire Games are coming next year, June 27-July 5, and will be an international event. Funding to support the games is required along with lots of volunteers. Opening ceremony will be at RFK Stadium; the athletes’ village will be in Reston and athletic events will take place in Virginia, the District and Maryland.

The budget assumptions for the FY2016 budget will be offered by the Board when it adopts the FY2015 budget. The level of

Q: In comparison to the reduction of over 600 County positions, FCPS had reduced 1400 positions and now in the FY2015
A: New terminals are needed.

Q: What technology upgrades are needed in police cars?
A: Additional revenue—what are other possible revenue enhancements? User fees? Carryover amounts?
A: Fees get updated or reviewed annually. The Board of Supervisors asked to look at SAC fee increases this year. Meals tax could be done—requires a voter referendum. Residential permits fee of $25 fee could be added. The county must have a balanced budget. Emergencies happen. Mr. Long feels the county is running too close on revenue estimates. Reserves are used for true emergencies only. Rainy day fund can only be used when projected revenues fall by $55M and then the Board can only take half of the amount from the rainy day reserve. In 2009 the county had to dip into the rainy day fund.

Q: What will county look line in a decade?
A: Diverse community, migration of new residents is at the lower end of income scale. Some new industries are coming to the county such as genome and genetics industries. We will also need technology companies to run “big data”. Town centers like Reston and Tysons will increase as well as density; additional growth in Springfield and Merrifield; more communication and outreach to community; and more urbanization in general.

Q: Vacant buildings—east county human services building—why not use existing building instead of building a new one?
A: Leased space is expensive. Hard to get large properties together to build something, but sometimes it is necessary.

Q: Verizon will not maintain boxes at the 911 Center because of their age. Why?
A: We need to replace the boxes which Verizon will then maintain.

Q: What are the health care and pension requirements for county employees?
A: Volume 2 of the budget has contribution rates for employees and the retirement programs for each class of employee. New employees cannot retire before age 55, rule of 85, with a defined benefit plan.

Q: Feds went from defined benefit to a small defined benefit plan but larger defined contribution plan?
A: That could be expensive, too. County human resources/consultant conducted a study 2 years ago and decided to remain with a defined benefit plan.

Q: If lower income people are moving into the county. How will they be able to afford to live here?
A: Apartments are more affordable. County is always looking at increasing the affordable housing stock. Over half (53%) of the homeless work; there about 1300 homeless persons at any time in the county.

Q: In comparison to the reduction of over 600 County positions, FCPS had reduced 1400 positions and now in the FY2015 successful model for conflict resolution between the NIH and its community. Commissioner Hedetniemi served as the President of the Braddock District Council for two years and has been the President of the Oak Hill Citizens Association since 1997.

The Federation will recognize as 2013 Citation of Merit honorees Commissioner Tena Bluhm and author/naturalist Kathy Kaplan.

Commissioner Bluhm serves as the Chair of the Fairfax Commission on Aging and has worked tirelessly on behalf of older adults and the issues of aging. She assisted in the planning and presentation of two major seminars presented by Fairfax County on Universal Design and Creating a Village. She has put a “face” on aging issues in Fairfax County and sought ways to make the county aging friendly. Commissioner Bluhm currently serves her homeowners association as president, is a member of the Braddock District Council and lives in Fairfax with her husband Ray.

Ms. Kaplan has worked tirelessly for library advocacy and has been awarded the Reston Citizens Association 2013 Citizen of the Year award for her work. She currently serves as the Chair of the Federation’s Library Committee that reviews proposed changes to the county’s library system including the Beta Plan, changes that would have degraded county libraries by reducing staff, eliminating educational requirements for librarians, and eliminating Youth Services for all branches. A lifelong naturalist and award winning author, Ms. Kaplan has lived in Reston for 31 years and served as co-chair of the Residential, Urban Design and Liveability workgroup for the RCS Reston 2020 during the first years of the Reston Master Plan Special Study Task Force.

The Federation will recognize the dedicated and distinguished careers of Delegate Jim Scott (HD-53rd), Congressman Frank Wolf (VA-10th), and Congressman Jim Moran (VA-8th) for their service to Northern Virginia residents and Fairfax County in particular.

“I am delighted that so many outstanding members of the community, who give continuously, have been selected as this year’s honorees.” said Federation President Rob Jackson.

Federation’s Resolutions on the Fairfax County Advertised Fiscal Year 2015 Budget

Introduction: The following resolution was adopted by the Federation Membership on March 27, 2014. The final resolution will be submitted to the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors.

Rob Jackson, President
Fairfax County Federation of Citizens Associations
April 2014

Education Resolution

Whereas, approval of the Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) advertised FY 2015 budget would result in a county transfer increase of about 5.7%, and the County Executive has proposed an increase in the county transfer to FCPS of about 2.0% for a difference of about $64 million and FCPS represents about 52% of the proposed County budget; and

Whereas, based on the current tax rate, in the County Executive’s proposed budget the projected increase in revenue for Fairfax County is about $145 million;

Whereas, since FY 2009 the county’s transfer to FCPS has grown at only a 1.1% compound annual growth rate whereas the general county fund has grown at a 1.4% growth rate; and

Whereas, over the last several years FCPS has increased class size twice, substantially reduced summer school, and salaries have stagnated with our maximum teacher salary now ranked 8th out of 10 Washington area school districts—10 being lowest, not the highest; and

Whereas, between FY 2009 and FY 2014 FCPS student population has increased about 15,000 (compound annual growth rate of 1.9%) with about 3,000 more students expected for FY 2015, and certain populations that require more expensive services have grown at an even faster rate, such as, students who receive free and reduced price lunches and ESOL students; and

Whereas, Fairfax County is one of the wealthiest counties in the U.S. and school bonds routinely pass overwhelmingly.

Therefore be it resolved, the Federation requests the Board of Supervisors provide FCPS with a fair share of available funds which should be a county transfer increase to FCPS of 50% of the FY 2015 projected increase in revenue for Fairfax County.

Libraries Resolution

Whereas, the Fairfax County Public Libraries are centers for self-directed education for all ages and provide skilled research assistance and instruction for individuals and groups, and

Whereas, the Library Budget has been cut from $34 million in 2007 to $27 million in 2013 during the same time that two new branch libraries were opened and at the same time population and cost of living were increased, and

Whereas, the per capita Materials Budget has decreased from $6.33 in FY 2000 to $2.11 in FY 2013, and

Whereas, Fairfax County Public Library has 45-50 vacant positions,

Whereas, the size of the Library collection fluctuated as books were regularly added to and culled from the collection, there was a net loss of over 400,000 books between 2006 and January 2014, and

Whereas, the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors voted November 19, 2013 an increase of $1M as a consideration item to the FY 2015 Library Budget for non-fiction materials, and the Library Board of Trustees Budget Committee voted February 3, 2014 to increase the library budget by $2M to include $1 M for Materials budget and $1 M for other items including continuing education for librarians, and

Whereas, the Fairfax County Public Library is crucial to the future of the county as an economic powerhouse.

Therefore be it resolved that the Federation calls for a $2.0 million increase in the FY2015 budget to: conduct a strategic plan, increase of the materials budget to restore depleted collections, fill vacant staff positions, broaden the function of the library to support literacy for children and adults, increase technical resources and library support for new businesses as strategies for furthering economic development in the county.

Debt Management Resolution

Whereas, Fairfax County has maintained a Aaa rating from Moody’s Investors Service since 1975, a AAA rating from Standard & Poor’s since 1978 and a AAA rating from Fitch Ratings since 1997, and

Whereas, as of January 2014, Fairfax County is only one of nine states, 39 counties, and 33 cities to hold a Triple-A rating from all three rating agencies, and

Whereas, the county’s 10% debt ratio (debt service expenditures, as a percentage of Combined General Fund disbursements) is consistent with its surrounding and stable rated counties including Montgomery, Loudoun, Arlington and Prince William, and

Whereas, the county has continued to fund its pension system based on actuarial estimates and in accordance with county code and has increased its pension funding in recent years to offset weak market returns, and

Whereas, Fairfax County has been able to maintain its triple-A bond rating throughout many economic downturns and Federal Government budget reductions over the past 36 years by following its sound financial management practices.

Therefore be it resolved, that the Federation recommends that the county continue to adhere to its sound financial management policies and practices, including matching recurring requirements with sustainable and recurring sources of revenue, and if necessary defer or eliminate any new debt issuance that might place the county’s strong debt rating and healthy financial condition at risk.

And be it further resolved, that the county be mindful and aware of its pension and other long-term obligations and closely monitor the effects of sequestration and other Federal Government budget reductions on the county’s economy.

And be it further resolved, that the County include Economic Development Authority debt service in the FY2015 and future budgets.

Pension Fund Resolution

Whereas, people live much longer than they did when the county retirement system was instituted (life expectancy is now 83, as compared to 70 not many years ago); and

Whereas, county employees are eligible for retirement at an far earlier age than in the private sector; and

Whereas, county employees are usually able to work and actually do work after retirement from the county; and

Whereas, the long-term liability of the pension fund is great.

Therefore be it resolved, that the county appoint a blue ribbon commission to study the effect of increasing the retirement age on the near- and long-term pension costs and the impact on staffing.

Revenues Resolution

Whereas, real estate values have increased on average 6.54% during the recent equalization process, meaning that maintaining the property tax rate of $1.085 per $100 would still generate about $2.3B in revenue and increase the cost for the average homeowner of roughly $333 per year; and

Whereas, county residents' income has increased only 2.1%; and

Whereas, tax payments are paid from income rather than home value; and

Whereas, the effects of the comprehensive State Transportation Act contains significant tax increases on sales, wholesale gasoline/diesel, property transfers, and other taxes.

Whereas, the rising additional fees that directly affect homeowners (stormwater fee, waste disposal, etc.) further increase the "tax burden" on homeowners.

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors has the authority to adopt a zoning ordinance to assess and impose transportation impact fees on any development needing a building permit, the collected impact fees to be used to pay all or part of the costs of reasonable road improvement, and that new transportation revenues collected from fuel taxes be used to alleviate congestion on county roads.

Therefore be it resolved, the Federation endorses maintaining a tax rate of $1.085 per $100 of assessed valuation, and urges that the Board of Supervisors work to accommodate recommended program funding for Schools and libraries as described above.

And be it further resolved, the Federation urges the Board of Supervisors to look at all possible sources of revenue (within its authority) including but not limited to meals tax, BPOL, increasing residential permitting fees, SACC fees, etc.

And be it further resolved, the Federation recommends that the Board of Supervisors adopt a zoning ordinance to assess and impose transportation impact fees on any development needing a building permit, the collected impact fees to be used to pay all or part of the costs of reasonable road improvement, and that new transportation revenues collected from fuel taxes be used to alleviate congestion on county roads.

And be it further resolved, the Federation recommends the Board of Supervisors obtain the equivalent of one penny or $20M from other revenue sources.

Resolution on County Budget Process

Whereas, there are no fewer than 86 Fairfax County boards, authorities and commissions, and 10 citizen advisory groups to the FCPS, all of which are advocacy groups for everything from trees to pets and child care to the elderly, none address a balanced, thorough analysis and prioritization of expenditures and revenue sources of the Fairfax County and Public Schools' budgets; and

Whereas, the ongoing financial situation creates counterproductive competition among vital programs, making carefully tailored cuts especially problematic; and

Whereas, a few of the District Supervisors have their own advisory committees on the county budget, whose chairs meet irregularly to exchange ideas; and

Whereas, community input must not only be broad, but also be informed by a depth of knowledge that effectively employs the diverse expertise of those who live and work in Fairfax County; and

Whereas, the Advertised Property Tax Rate for FY2015 had to be set just one week after the County Executive released his FY2015 Advertised Budget; and

Whereas, the county's increasing participation in public-private partnerships, including the Tysons transit and other community redevelopments, may expose taxpayers to open-ended financial risks without adequate public discussion; and

Whereas, the Advertised Budget was released on February 25, 2014, and the public hearings on the budget are scheduled to begin 41 days later, on April 8; and

Whereas, the most recent edition of the county's Performance Measurement Matters newsletter is dated Fall 2008; and

Whereas, the County and FCPS already develop a 5 year staffing plan and budget outlooks; and

Whereas, while the "performance" of most departments and agencies are reported in the county's proposed budget under the heading of Performance Measurement Results, many county offices report activities, such as attending meetings and preparing reports rather than citing work accomplishments/results; and

Whereas, both the county government and schools provide many non-mandated programs that should be reviewed for effectiveness, especially during economic downturns; and

Whereas, the Commonwealth's Transportation Plan imposes significant sales tax increases, wholesale gas taxes, and increased fees on property transfers; and

Whereas, Fairfax County has an obligation to ensure the most efficient use of tax dollars at a time of continuing shortfalls, to minimize damage to essential county and schools programs, and to limit the burden on county taxpayers.

Therefore be it resolved, the Federation praises the county's extensive series of public meetings to solicit community input on spending priorities, and urges that such meetings be continued in future years.

And be it further resolved, the Federation strongly urges that the processes/calendar for county residents' informed input to the budget decision-making process allow at least 60 days between release of the Advertised Budget and the public testimony on the budget.

And be it further resolved, the Federation strongly advocates for year-round review of the budget by a citizens' advisory com-committee to the Board of Supervisors, comprised of members whose focus is not advocacy of specific causes but a balanced, in-depth analysis and prioritization of expenditures and revenue sources for Fairfax County government and Public Schools’ budgets.

And be it further resolved, the Federation urges all District supervisors to appoint budget advisory committees, and at the very least appoint a chairman who can participate in countywide meetings with other district budget committee chairs.

And be it further resolved, the Federation urges the County to publish 5-year budget goals.

And be it further resolved, the Federation recommends that the county establish an inventory of all public-private partnerships that may expose taxpayers to unexpected budget obligations, and establish a process that ensures broad public discussion of any partnership that may entail hidden risks for taxpayers.

And be it further resolved, the Federation requests that all Performance Measurement results in departmental budgets and Lines of Business documents, the latter of which needs to be updated, be reported in terms of accomplishments/results.

Here is an abbreviated version of Mason District’s Carol Turner’s report on the county’s March 26 meeting on Residential Studio Units (RSU’s).

The meeting consisted of presentations from three different home builders. One was a non-profit organization to help the homeless, alcoholics, drug-addiction folks, etc.; another was a private developer that builds assisted living for the poor and needy; and the last one was a representative from the Montgomery County Housing Department. All three showed that the Fairfax County’s RSU proposal is worthless. The rent from the 20% market units will not make up for the 80% below-market apartments. Rent from a 50/50 split might. The for-profit developer saw only one advantage: developers would not be required to provide as many parking spaces as currently required. The Montgomery official said that many of these buildings for the poor start with sufficient funds but within a few years the money runs out and the buildings become dilapidated with 11 people living in a 1 bedroom apartment and no one watching or caring. Charitable organizations, government agencies, and other sources have insufficient funds to help build RSU’s and then support them. Competition is tough for the little funding available. The non-profit presenter said that the RSU amendment has too many objectives. Her organization has one purpose: to get the homeless off the streets and into a stable home. The non-profit organization is run so well that its supporters know it can be trusted to fulfill its one purpose.

The current proposal is only for single people earning less than 60% of AMI. More than half of the 700 homeless people in Fairfax County are in families. The RSU’s would not help them. In addition, county residents do not trust the Board of Supervisors to do what is best for the existing citizens in exercising the great powers given it by the proposal.
