Membership Meeting Minutes
Thursday, November 18, 2010

The November 2010 Meeting of the Membership of the Fairfax County Federation of Citizens Associations was called to order by President Tania Hossain at 7:35 p.m. in Braddock Hall, Burke. The attendance list is attached to file copy of the minutes.

Program: Tyson’s Corner Bicycle Master Plan
Jeffrey Hermann, Fairfax County Bicycle and Pedestrian Planner, and Charles Strunk, Fairfax County Bicycle Program Coordinator talked with participants regarding the county’s bicycle program. Jeff and Charles explained and discussed the county’s bicycle program and related issues; some of the points covered follow.

The county bicycle program was created by the Board of Supervisors four years ago; a mandate is to network the county by bicycle. Products include publishing the county-wide bicycle map in 2008, adding bike racks to Connector buses, and the recently published Tyson’s Corner Bicycle Plan. (See http://www.fairfaxfederation.org/pdf/TysonsCornerBicycleMasterPlan111118.pdf) Development of a county-wide bicycle master plan will begin in the spring of 2011.

Other bicycle concepts covered included: considerations required for new developments, the goal of accommodating bicyclists ages “8 to 80,” bicycle street lanes versus sidewalk use, bicycle lane standards, safety issues, related public education, connecting existing trails and building new ones, coordination among agencies, how the county gets citizen input on bicycle requirements, the difficulty connecting McLean pedestrians and bicyclists to Tyson's Corner, insuring safe routes to schools, autonomy of school principals regarding school bicycle policy, and ensuring bike lanes on the new beltway bridges built for the HOT lanes project.

President Hossain expressed the Federation’s gratitude for this update on the bicycle program and presented Jeff and Charles with Federation mugs.

As described in the October minutes, the project is conducted by graduates of the Fairfax County Citizens Police Academy and the funds raised will be used to supply a Police Department mobile canteen that supplies food and rest areas for police at major incident scenes where police may be on-site for many hours or days.
Redistricting of the Election Districts of the Board of Supervisors

The board of supervisors on November 16 approved the process and schedule for reapportionment of supervisor districts. Earlier Chairman Bulova stated that the Federation would be one of the countywide organizations included on the Advisory Citizen Committee to participate in the process with County staff. The Federation must choose its representative; those who wish to represent the Federation on this committee should contact President Tania Hossain.

Land Use—Fred Costello

In support of the Reston Master Plan Special Study Task Force, Fred developed several analytical models related to traffic. The County has more sophisticated models, such as VISSIM, but the time required to look at one alternative road change is several months—far too long to be useful given the Task Force’s schedule. Fred’s models are simpler.

- His gridded-streets model shows that grids do not improve traffic flow significantly, except for the last 0.2 mile for a destination away from the artery.
- His model of mode shares shows that walking and bicycling are faster for distances less than ½ mile. A single-occupant private automobile is less costly than a bus for distances less than eight miles, if time is evaluated at $20 per hour and the time to walk to and from the bus is included. The bus is cheaper for longer distances because the Metro bus fare structure does not depend on distance. Fred is still working on a model to estimate the percent of people who would prefer the bus, despite its higher cost.

Fred has compared the George Mason University (GMU) and Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (MWCOG) jobs and housing projections for the Reston area. These differ by as much as 32%. Fred’s traffic model uses the higher GMU estimates and shows which intersections fail and how to make them acceptable.

Fred and the County finally agree on the land areas for the land along the Dulles Toll Road. They are still trying to resolve differences in the limits on the Floor-Area-Ratios as allowed by zoning and as described in the current Comprehensive Plan. It appears that the current Comprehensive Plan allows for sufficient office floor area but not sufficient residential floor area. Nevertheless, the developers want to be allowed to build more of the more profitable office space. Traffic will become a greater problem if insufficient residential space is built.

The Federation’s Legislative Package is undergoing proofreading. It will soon be posted on the Federation’s web site.

Transportation—Carey Campbell, Roger Hoskins, and Jeff Parnes
Mark Tipton, the Federation’s representative on the county’s Trails and Sidewalks Committee, requested recommendations from members.

Jeff, who is chair of the Transportation Advisory Commission (TAC), reported the TAC’s November meeting featured a status update on the Dulles Corridor Metrorail Project, an update on the County’s Study on Alternatives for Improving Roadway Services, and the Tysons Corner Bicycle Master Plan.

The TAC has been advising FCDOT staff and their consultants in their efforts to conduct the study that is exploring ways for the county to provide better transportation services, including taking it over from VDOT. In the 1930s the state took over full responsibility for road maintenance, development, and operation from the counties. Cities and both Arlington and Henrico counties maintained responsibility for their roads. The county has explored whether to assume the VDOT road multiple times over the past forty years, each time deciding to leave the situation as it stands.

The study itself has been renamed, it was previously titled “Transportation Funding and Improving Roadway Services Delivery Study,” and now the more direct “Study on Alternatives for Improving Roadway Services”.

Staff has found that it is hard to determine exactly what state costs are associated with servicing our county, as the state does certain services regionally (over, for say, Loudoun, Prince William, and Fairfax counties, without apportioning the costs per county). The advice the TAC has been providing is not intended to influence the study’s results, but in the areas for the staff to explore, questions to answer, etc. Staff has also found that those counties with road responsibilities and cities expend more money to maintain their roads than the funds provided by the state.

The revised Transportation Committee webpage (http://www.fairfaxfederation.org/transportation1.htm) holds recent presentations (including those mentioned above) that may be of interest to Federation members.

Jeff will add the Tysons Corner Bicycle Master Plan to the web site along with other transportation presentations.
